The San Jacinto Chapter DRT June luncheon is just around the corner on June 7. It's a great chance for everyone to connect and catch up. The May 30th deadline to make reservations is fast approaching, so please send in your check to reserve your spot. For all the details and payment information, please see the invitation in this newsletter. And...don't forget to wear your spring or summer hat to the luncheon!

From the President
Dear Daughters,
To say it's been a busy year is to put it mildly. Between Hurricane Harvey, Come & Sip It, our reorganization, and ice storms it seems that something was always going on. So it's now time to sit back and enjoy our June luncheon. Again this year we'll be at the BraeBurn County Club, so please put it on your calendar for June 7th. A copy of the invitation is enclosed in this newsletter.

Please send your check in as soon as possible as the deadline for reservations is May 30th.

Laura-Hill Taylor,
President

Houston Murder Stories, told by Mike Vance
Mike Vance captured everyone’s rapt attention with oft forgotten or unknown Houston murder stories at our May meeting. Unlike famous murders in other major cities, many famous Houston murders have been highly underreported. This is a side of Houston that hasn’t been written about much. Most Houston stories have tended to be about business and society. Mike feels it is important to preserve and tell these murder stories because they too are a part of Houston's storied history. Mike and John Nova Lomax co-authored the book, Murder & Mayhem in Houston, Historic Bayou City Crime.

San Jacinto Chapter DRT Memorial Service was held at the May meeting.

By the early 1830s, the Mexican War of Independence had subsided, and some 60 to 70 families had settled in Texas—most of them from the United States. Because there was no regular army to protect the citizens against attacks by native tribes and bandits, in 1823, Stephen F. Austin organized small, informal armed groups whose duties required them to range over the countryside, and who thus came to be known as "rangers". Around August 4, 1823, Austin wrote that he would "... employ ten men ... to act as rangers for the common defense ... the wages I will give said ten men is fifteen dollars a month payable in property ..." John Jackson Tumlinson Sr., the first alcalde of the Colorado district, is considered by many historians of the Texas Rangers to be the first killed in the line of duty. While there is some discussion as to when Austin actually employed men as "rangers", Texas Ranger lore dates the anniversary year of their organization to this event.

However, the Texas Rangers were not formally constituted until 1835. Austin returned to Texas after having been imprisoned in Mexico City and helped organize a council to govern the group. On October 17, at a consultation of the Provisional Government of Texas, Daniel Parker proposed a resolution to establish the Texas Rangers. He proposed creating three companies that would total some 60 men and would be known by "uniforms" consisting of a light duster (clothing) and an identification badge made from a Mexican Peso. They were instituted by Texan lawmakers on November 24. On November 28, 1835 Robert McAlpin Williamson was chosen to be the first Major of the Texas Rangers. Within two years the Rangers grew to more than 300 men.

In their early days, Rangers performed tasks of protecting the Texas Frontier against Indian attacks on the settlers. During the Texas Revolution, they served mainly as scouts, spies, couriers, and guides for the settlers fleeing before the Mexican Army and performed rear guard during the Runaway Scrape and general support duties. These minor roles continued after independence, when the region became the Republic of Texas under President Sam Houston. Houston, who had lived with the Cherokee for many years (and who had taken a Cherokee wife), favored peaceful coexistence with Indians, a policy that left little space for a force with the Rangers' characteristics.

This situation changed radically when Mirabeau B. Lamar became president of the Republic of Texas in December 1838. Lamar had participated in skirmishes with the Cherokee in his home state of Georgia; like most Texians, he had not forgotten the support the Cherokee had given the Mexicans at the Cordova Rebellion against the Republic. He favored the eradication of Indians in Texas—a view that he shared with Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Thomas Rusk. Lamar saw in the Rangers the perfect tool for the task, and he obtained permission from the Texas Legislature to raise a force of 56 Rangers, along with other volunteer companies. During the following three years, he engaged the Rangers in a war against the Cherokee and the Comanche and succeeded in weakening their territorial control.

Work completed this Spring
The Log House grounds were cleaned and spruced up April 14 - 15 by volunteers and workers.

Worker, Miguel Parilla and his helper worked on the following improvements:
- All grass was fertilized.
- Azalea bushes were pruned after their bloom cycle.
- Ground cover by the grape arbor was trimmed.
- Two dead rose bushes by the Magnolia tree in the back were removed.
- The Yaupon limbs over shed roof were cut back.
- Weeds were pulled and plants trimmed in the Pioneer Garden.
- Azalea and camellia beds, planting areas, and bare ground in the Pioneer Garden were tilled.
- Ginger next to grape arbor was cut back to 6 inches, and dead growth was removed.
- Weeds were pulled and trash vines removed.

Volunteers Carolyn Gilbert, Lee Forster, Margie Forster, Joy Kay, and George Hamborsky worked hard on these tasks:
- Two sprinkler heads were capped.
- Two fallen fence logs were put back in place.
- Plants growing over sidewalks near Ben Taub garage and hospital were trimmed.
- Lantana and other plants were pruned.
- Aspidistra (iron plant) around the large oak tree near parking lot and gravel walkway was pruned.
- Roses in Lila Smith Rose Garden and other areas were pruned.
- Weeds were pulled and dead leaves from the Lila Smith Rose Garden were cleared.
- Roses, azaleas, camellias, beautyberry, grapes in the arbor, and other planting beds were fertilized.
- The grounds were treated for fire ants.
- Litter was picked up.

Repair Projects
The Executive Committee intends to seek grants for needed major Log House repair projects. As we work on these major issues, please remember that our usual maintenance and upkeep previously handled by the now dissolved Pioneer Memorial Log House Museum, needs your continued financial support as outlined in 4th VP Gwen Koch’s recent email.

In order to carry the Log House to its 100th Birthday in 2036, we need to act now on major repairs and renovations.

- Major repairs to level the Log House will require replacing rotting piers. This project will also include repairing the sagging front porch and damaged chinking, and treating the Log House exterior log walls to halt deterioration and seal cracking. The Log House is sinking at the front right corner.
- Replacing our antiquated A/C with a modern HVAC system is imperative. Until we have a new system, we will not have heat in the main room.
- We intend to upgrade to a regular size hot water heater to have adequate hot water for dishwashers and restrooms. The galvanized water pipes have deteriorated and must be replaced.
- Electrical updates to security lighting and installing modern lighting inside the log house are needed.

Our grounds look great due to Margie Forster and volunteers. Many thanks to the volunteers who generously helped pitch in their time to get the Log House grounds into tip top shape!

Thanks go to Lisa Bradley for coordinating with the Boy Scouts to repair the fence. The security company has solved a long standing false alarm problem traced to the motion detectors. Laura-Hill, Juan, and I are hoping for fewer late night alarm calls.
